DANIELSON AND PUTNAM NEWS

DANIELSON

H. M. Caruthers, formerly owner of the Ross mill, so-called, at East Killingly was in Danielson Wednesday, his first visit here in ten years. Mr. Caruthers is now owner of an architectural and engineering firm, with headquarters in Boston. Mr. Caruthers visited with W. S. Brown at Shepherd Hill farm, near Wauregan, during a few hours of his stay here.

William Behrens, manager, announces the opening of Whippoorwill, East Killingly, Saturday evening; dancing, refreshments; all welcome—adv.

Leo J. L'Honnore, post, American Legion, has arranged to hold open house next Wednesday evening. The public will be entertained and refreshments will be served.

Good progress is being made on the house construction programme at International place, where homes have been building for the Connecticut Mills company throughout the winter.

The Windham County National bank pays four per cent. interest to all depositors in their savings department. All deposits made on or before the fifth day of each month draw interest from the first day of each month—adv.

County roads are packing down into good condition with amazing rapidity, following rains of the week. It is being reported that the roads are in better condition now than at any time of the year.

An effort to locate relatives of John Gilchrist, who died suddenly Sunday at the Ballouville boarding house, had been without results up to Wednesday afternoon. It has been established, however, that Mr. Gilchrist was a member of a Sons of Veterans' post at Taunton, and a member of the local post of Sons of Veterans has communicated with the Taunton post.

The announced plan to take over the local trolley line has been received here with a general approval. Somehow there seemed to be an impression that many of the road's troubles will disappear with the return of control to the Connecticut Company and with Samuel Anderson as general manager.

The public in towns heretofore is not favorably disposed, however, toward the announced programme of an increase in rates. The rate on the local line is now approximately three cents a mile, and that seems very high to the average person. If boosts are to come, they should be assessed it is generally felt here, against the city zones where nickel rides are still the rule.

Judge George E. Hinman of the superior court has handed down a decision in the case of Byron M. Lewis of East Killingly vs. Luther E. Hopkins of Providence. Difficulties arose between Mr. Lewis and Mr. Hopkins, last summer, over the ownership of a truck, each claiming title to it. The truck was at East Killingly in Mr. Lewis' possession when Mr. Hopkins put it in an appearance and claimed it. Court action followed the dispute, each filing a suit against the other.

In the interest of Mr. Lewis $100 that was put up as security for the prosecuting attorney A. G. Bill by Mr. Hopkins was garnished, and Judge Hinman's decision, just filed, was pertaining to legality of garnishing money so held by an officer of a court.

In his decision, which is in favor of Mr. Hopkins, Judge Hinman says in part: "It is a general rule that money in custodia legis or deposited with an officer of a court by court order cannot be reached by garnishment proceedings by a creditor of a claimant of such funds."

Money deposited in lieu of bail with a court officer is said to be held in trust by said person for the state or government, and to whom it would be forfeited in case of non-compliance and for the depositor, and whether it can be attached by the creditor.

Motorists who did not heed repeated warnings to take some other route continued to mire their cars out on the state highway near the cemetery on Killingly avenue, Wednesday. The South Main street detour should be used in traveling south to Attawaugan, Danielson and other places.

The death of Aelenci Morin, aged 87 years and 8 months, occurred Wednesday morning at his home in North Grosvenordale, where he had been a resident for years. During his active years Mr. Morin had been employed as a laborer. He was a native of Canada, where the body will be taken today (Thursday) for burial, at St. Damase, P. Q.

The death that closed last night was probably the finest corresponding month for business that Putnam merchants as a whole have experienced. A number of business men reported a remarkable jump in sales.

Putnam people showed great interest Wednesday in the fact that the Connecticut company is again to have control of the local trolley line. The Connecticut company always furnished good trolley service in this territory, Samuel Anderson, who is returning as manager, will be welcomed back in the Putnam territory, where he is well known.

Members of the fire department seem confident that they will be able to handle any ordinary fire situation that may arise in the interim during which a new company is being recruited and organized to take the place of the members of the old company, whose resignations ran effective today, April 1.

This is the day—April 1—when the teamsters of Putnam put into effect their new rate of $2.00 a day, 8 hours for the use of their teams. High cost of feed, labor and upkeep of teams are given as reasons for the advance for the new rate.

Master George Gilpatrick left Wednesday for a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Walter Gilpatrick in Brooklyn, N. Y. Only three sessions of the Putnam city court, during March, and not a prisoner has been sent to jail from this city for nearly six months. This is a record unequalled in this city in many years.

Dr. F. T. Baldwin was slightly cut and bruised when he was hurled out of his berth in a railroad wreck near Pittsborough, while he was returning here from the west, where he had been buying horses.

Voters of the city will meet Tuesday to pass on some appropriation matters that will come up for consideration. These appropriations are to take care of curbing and sewer construction costs.

The body of Chauncey F. Bosworth, who died last week in California, was brought to Putnam and is expected to arrive here Wednesday afternoon, according to a telegram received here Wednesday.

Forty will be baptized at the Baptist church Sunday, April 4, at the morning service, 10 to 11 a. m. Special programs of Easter music have been arranged for the Sunday services. The roll call and supper at the church will be held Wednesday evening. Rev. Horace S. Sloat of Hartford will be the speaker.

Dentists of the city held a meeting Wednesday afternoon in the office of Dr. Harry A. Houghton to discuss plans for cooperating with the town school committee in the matter of arranging for the care of the teeth of the school children.

Misses Ruth and Dorcas Bartlett of St. Margaret's school, Waterbury, are at home here for the Easter recess.

Cargill council, K. of C. is to confer the first and second degrees on a class of candidates Easter Sunday afternoon.

Following is the program for the Easter music at the Methodist church.

Voluntary, Festival March, Best, Mr. Dodge, organist; Hymn 159; Welcome, Wilfred Winslow; Scripture Reading, D. B. Gilbert; Prayer, Rev. S. J. A. Rook; solo, Hosanna, Granier, Miss Grace I. Bennett; Easter, Stephen Tripp; What the Little Bird Said, Miss Helen L. Lillie; Song, six boys, Harold Wilcox, Donald Rook, Sidney King, George Willis, Frank Taylor, William Aldrich; duet, Easter Bells, Ring On, Marion and Christine Evans; Working for Easter, Leonie Evans; Easter Flowers, ten girls, Primary Dept.; song, Millicent Rook; recitation, Winifred Gould and Sylvia Warren; Beautiful Lilies, Frances Toohill; Before the Cross, Bertha Hall, Lillian Shaw, Catherine Hacker; duet, Frances Toohill, Lillian Cunningham; The Lily's Sermon, Mildred Perry; Legend of the Cross, Mrs. Gilbert's class; songs, Ruth Aldrich; Reading, N. L. L. Rachel Jordan; Anthem, Lift Up Your Heads, O Ye Gates, Adams, choir.

A spelling match has been arranged between teams representing Putnam and Windham.

The Windham Center district held its annual meeting Saturday evening and the following reports were presented:
